

Revealations

Liz McClarnon, 27, talks about losing her temper and terrible chat-up lines

» On Celebrity MasterChef, were you tempted to sabotage the other contestants' meals?

Unfortunately there wasn't time, but if there had been, I'd definitely have done that, because I do have an evil side! [Laughs cheekily]

» Did you flirt with the judges John Torode and Gregg Wallace to win?

No I didn't, but my cousin seems to think I did. He said: 'You're a bird and a blonde - that's why you won.' I said: 'Thanks very much!' I should threaten to never cook for him!

» How do you feel about the fact that your winning recipe wasn't your own?

I think it's fine. They said cook your favourite dish and I did. It was a variation on the beef Wellington at The Wellington Club in London. It was still mine!

» You chopped off a pig's head - should we be scared of you?

God no, it was awful. What people didn't see was me running to the freezer crying.

» Are you a diva or do you clean your own loo?

I do clean my own loo. I'm not a diva!

» But have you had a diva moment?

Not really - my make-up artist says I never kick off. I just cry. She tells me to stop because I'm ruining my make-up! She says I should throw something instead - but I'd never do that, I'd feel guilty about breaking something.

» Have you ever had a wardrobe malfunction like Janet Jackson's infamous Superbowl incident?

I've never flashed a boob, thank goodness, but now I'm worried that by saying that I've jinxed myself.

» Any chance of an Atomic Kitten reunion?

No. We do things for charity but everyone is doing their own thing and Atomic Kitten takes up every minute of your life.

» What's the most you've spent on clothing?

Once I spent about £3,000 on a Versace dress I wore on a show four years ago. It was one-shoulder and pink and green. So now I can say: 'I'm wearing vintage Versace.'

» When did you last lose your temper?

Recently, I was in traffic and a guy in the next car was shouting into his mobile. He saw me looking and said: 'What the f**k are you looking at? I'll take your f**king car off you!' I said: 'Try, you stupid b**stard!' Then I got a fright and closed my windows and turned a corner - he could have done anything to me.

» Which celebrity would you most like to meet?

I wouldn't mind saying 'Hello' to Josh Hartnett...

» What's the worst chat-up line you've heard?

Someone once said to me: 'Here's 20p - go and phone your mum and tell her you've pulled.' I said: 'Here's a pound, go buy yourself some chewy - you need some!' B

Rebecca Smith

Check out Liz's website:
www.lizmcclarnon.com