Carolyn Hughes reports from the latest lunches, launches and parties

STAFF from the local Gusto, Red Door, Blackhouse Grill and Olive Press bars and restaurants were treated to a fantastic beach-themed party by operators Living Ventures last week.

Organised by Karine Bacon, the wonderful party was held in a field in Smallwood and came complete with bands, exotic dancers, and a beach hut style bar and restaurant.

Overnight accommodation was provided on a campsite complete with stylish teepees and classic camper vans.

Congratulations to the cast of Legally Blonde, who enjoyed a standing ovation from the full house at last week's press night of this spectacular stage production. Liz McClarnon was delighted that the show opened in Liverpool and the entire cast performed outstandingly.

Liverpool's St Paul's Square development has opened a brand new luxury show apartment opened to the public. Potential homebuyers were treated to a tour of the stunning show apartments and were given the chance to speak to the developer about the range of buying options available.

The new CityWave event splashed down this week in a rainy Williamson Square.

CityWave event is a simulator, where children and adults can experience first hand the thrill of surfing and wakeboarding while staying perfectly dry!

Actress Suzanne Collins was among those checking out the attraction, which runs until early September.

And, finally, Ubiquity held their latest Fish! networking event at Host, in Hope Street, with 40 guests from leading property and professional services across the North West getting together.
